International Relations and Partnership Office

Welcome to Our Global Exchange Program!

On behalf of our esteemed faculty and vibrant student community, I extend a warm welcome to you as you embark on your journey with us through our Global Exchange Program. I am thrilled to witness the diverse perspectives and fresh ideas you will bring to our academic and cultural fabric.

Our institution prides itself on fostering an environment of inclusivity, innovation, and excellence. We are committed to providing you with a comprehensive learning experience that goes beyond traditional boundaries. Through this exchange, you will not only gain academic knowledge but also develop invaluable skills in adaptability, cross-cultural communication, and global awareness.

I encourage you to fully immerse yourself in this unique opportunity. Engage with your peers and faculty, participate in our wide array of extracurricular activities, and explore the rich cultural heritage our community has to offer. This journey is a chance for you to grow personally and academically, forging lasting connections across the globe.

We are excited to have you with us and look forward to your contributions to our academic community.

Here's to a successful and memorable exchange experience!

LIFE ON CAMPUS

ABOUT LSPR INSTITUTE OF COMMUNICATION & BUSINESS

The London School of Public Relations - Jakarta, established on 1 July 1992, is a private tertiary institution with undergraduate communication programs divided into six concentrations; Public Relations, International Relations, Marketing, Mass Communication, Digital Media Communication & Advertising and Performing Arts Communication, as well as post-graduate programs divided into four concentrations; Corporate Communication, Marketing Communication, International Relations Communication and Mass Media Management. LSPR was transformed into the LSPR Institute of Communication & Business based on the Decree of Ministry of Research, Technology and Higher Education Indonesia Number 1035/KPT/I/2019. LSPR now has two Faculties, the Faculty of Communication and the Faculty of Business. Apart from that, LSPR organizes 6 (seven) Study Programs, namely Communication Science Master's Program, Communication Science Undergraduate Program, Communication Science Distance Education Undergraduate Program held in Bali Province, Visual Communication Design Undergraduate Program, Management Undergraduate Program, Tourism Undergraduate Program.

On October 30 2023, the Ministry of Education through the Higher Education Service Institute (LLDikti) Region III issued a Decree to the London School of Public Relations (LSPR) Institute to organize an international doctoral level higher education program, thus expanding access to standard quality development of Indonesian human resources.

LSPR is accredited A by BAN – PT (National Accreditation Board for Higher Education). In 2019, LSPR was recognized as a campus that practices ethics, becoming a trusted educational institution from the Global Alliance for Public Relations and Communication Management. In 2021, the LSPR Faculty of Communication and Business Faculty received accreditation from the Global Alliance for Public Relations and Communication Management. In 2022, LSPR was accredited by the British Accreditation Council and LSPR was again included in the top 50 of WURI (World's Universities With Real Impact) for the category Entrepreneurial Spirit (rank 41), and Crisis Management (rank 46). In the national category, LSPR is an active participant in the State Defense Awareness Development Program (PKBN), receiving recognition for the 10 Best Social Media Performances at LLDikti Region III. Apart from that, together with Gunadarma University, the Kedai Reka Matching Fund consortium and obtained Higher Education grants for the implementation of the Independent Campus Learning Support System.

We are often asked, particularly by international applicants, to give some indication of the cost of living in Jakarta, Indonesia. This is quite a difficult exercise, as the cost of living depends to some extent on each individual student.

For example, spending on travel and social life can vary widely from student to student. Therefore, the following costs are only approximate estimates of monthly living expenses of a student living away from and at home during the exchange. Please note, these are approximate costs and will vary for individual students.

*Please kindly note: Based on our previous exchange student experiences, we do not recommend booking your accommodation through Travelio.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Time Zones

Indonesia has three time zones—Western Indonesia Time which is GMT +7 (covering Sumatra, Java, Madura, West Kalimantan, Central Kalimantan), Central Indonesia Time which is GMT +8 (covering East and South Kalimantan, Sulawesi, Bali, Nusa Tenggara) and the last is Eastern Indonesia Time which is GMT +9 (covering Maluku and Irian Jaya).

The capital Jakarta is GMT + 7 or 16 hours ahead of US Pacific Standard Time.

Office hours

Office hours start from 8 AM to 4 PM, or 9 AM to 5 PM. Lunch break occurs between 12 noon to 1 PM. Usually offices are closed on Saturdays, including government offices.

Government office hours start at 8 AM and end at 4 PM.

Banking Hours

Standard banking hours are from 8 AM to 3 PM from Monday to Friday. However several banks open their branches in hotels (and some in malls) longer than office hour, a few are open on Saturdays so you might want to check first. Jakarta has a number of international banks, even though you can also exchange currencies in some hotel cashiers and official money changers.

Currency

The Indonesia Rupiah is also called IDR. Information of daily exchange rate can be found in newspapers or from the net. Some Indonesia banks provide this on their websites. IDR and US$ are the most acceptable currencies.

Most tourism resorts have money changer facilities. When you are traveling to remote areas it is advisable to exchange your money and clear your check. Credit cards are only acceptable in big hotels, restaurants, shops and traveling agencies.

Electricity

Electric power supply is 220 volts in all regions. So be careful with your 110-volt electronic equipment. The sockets will only fit with two pins rounded-tip plugs (technically known as Type C, E, and F) or use adaptors. Most hotels and many restaurants in large cities provide internet connections or free WiFi

GENERAL INFORMATION

Do's and Dont's

Indonesia has several traditions and customs and it is best if you know them beforehand. Some of them are:

- Traditionally, when you greet someone, both hands are used when shaking, without grasping.
- It is considered polite to make a phone call first before visiting.
- Shoes must be taken off before entering a house or place of worship like mosques.
- Usually drinks are offered to guests. It is polite to accept.
- When eating, receiving or giving something, always use your right hand. Right index finger should not be used to point a place, items or people. Use the right hand thumb and fold the remaining fingers to be more polite.
- Taking photographs of houses of worships is allowed, however permission should be asked first whenever possible, especially if you want to take pictures of the interior.
- Most Indonesian Muslims do not consume alcoholic drinks and pork.
- Hence, the tradition of proposing a toast to honor someone is not generally known.

Travel Tips

- Plan your budget and choose your destination carefully. Indonesia is vast— each region has its own quirks and possibilities. For instance, if you plan to have some adventure in rugged terrains, it's advisable to come on dry season for rains might make your paths muddy.
- Make sure you find as many information as possible concerning Indonesia, especially about the visa.
- Have sufficient cash ready, usually US$ is preferred. It can easily be exchanged in airports, hotels, banks or reputable money changers. Customs might ask you to show how much money you bring.
- Dress sufficiently. If you are female, make sure you dress accordingly. Skimpy clothing in public area, save from beaches and pools, might warrant unwanted attention.

GENERAL INFORMATION

A. Indonesian Phrases

Bahasa Indonesia is relatively simple and by using a few phrases or sentences, you'll be more appreciated and respected. You can find Indonesian phrase books in good book shops. But these few pointers below can help. Try slipping a few of them in daily conversations and ask whether you get it right. It'll be a great ice breaker.

LSPR STUDENT EXCHANGE

#LSPRExploresTheWorld

Your International Journey Starts Here at LSPR!

"I expected the Indonesian cultures will be very different from Europe and that's what I really got. The LSPR atmosphere is really lively, energetic, and a lot more open toward new students. The lecturer is helpful to accommodate us and also the friends in LSPR."

Johanna Pinn - Student Exchange From Hanze University of Applied Science, Netherlands 2019

Soon Mi van Dijk - Student Exchange
From Breda University of Applied Science, Netherlands 2020

I chose the exchange program mainly because I knew that it would be fun and nice to work together with Indonesian people and learn more about their culture. Since I've been to Indonesia before, I already know that Indonesians are super friendly so that's definitely one of the reasons that I chose it because that way I knew for sure I would feel good at school. I really like the people of Indonesia and I think any country could be fun as long as the people are nice because making friends is the best. I can say that I did like working together with the people in my class!
